Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

1. This office action is in response to amendment filed on Nov. 09, 2005.
2. Claims 8-14 have been canceled.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 1-2, 4-5 and 15-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Paik et al. (6,675,008).

Regarding claims 1-2, 4-5 and 15-17, Paik discloses a caller information providing apparatus and transmitting method in mobile communication network comprising:

initiating a plurality of call signals into the mobile module from a plurality of remote communication devices based on a timed sequence (see fig.1, element 10a-n, 20, col.4, lines 31-38 and its description).

determining which of the plurality of call signals has established communication with the mobile module (see fig.1, col.4, 31-38 and its description); and terminating the call signals that have not established communication based on the determination (see fig.1, col.4, lines 38-49 and its description).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 7 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over by Paik et al. (6,675,008) in view of Ushiki et al. (6,311,065).

Regarding claims 7 and 20, Paik discloses all the subject matters described in rejected claim 1 and 15, except for based on priority. However, Ushiki discloses a communication system calling process base on priority of service (see fig.1, col.10, lines 32-40 and its description). Thus, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use the Ushiki's the process of call signal based on priority in Paik's invention to improve the priority of the call in telecommunication systems.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claims 3, 6 and 19 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
